Anna Depko, CFA

Anna's adventure with the financial market began in 2006 when she joined Mercer in Ireland. As a member of the Investment Consulting team, she assisted pension fund trustees in the preparation and implementation of investment strategies, selection and assessment of asset managers, and use of market opportunities to diversify portfolio allocation. After returning to Poland in 2010, she joined a team of regional managers supporting a wide spectrum of deposit and investment solutions at Bank Zachodni WBK (today Santander Bank Polska), and then after moving to Warsaw in 2012, she began working with Analizy Online using her knowledge in assessing investment funds available on the market, as well as contributing to business development. In the years 2014-2018, she supported the asset manager team and sales team at PKO TFI as investment communications director, and in 2018 she joined Tar Heel Capital as the person responsible for investment communications and customer relations in relation to the THC Global Innovation fund.

Anna has a master's degree in economics from the University of Szczecin in the field of Marketing and Management and she is a CFA Charterholder. Since January 2017, he has been a member of the Audit Committee of CFA Society Poland.
